American Society for Bone and Mineral Research Announces 2013 Esteemed Awards Recipients

Dr. Elizabeth Shane is honored with the Frederic C. Bartter Award

Baltimore, MD — The American Society for Bone and Mineral Research (ASBMR) has announced the 2013 Esteemed Awards Recipients. Each year, the ASBMR recognizes its members’ accomplishments with eight esteemed awards. This year’s winner of the Frederic C. Bartter Award is Dr. Elizabeth Shane of Columbia University. The Frederic C. Bartter Award is given to an ASBMR member in recognition of outstanding clinical investigation in disorders of bone and mineral metabolism.

Dr. Shane is Professor of Medicine and Vice Chair of Medicine for Clinical and Epidemiological Research at Columbia University, College of Physicians & Surgeons in New York City and is an Attending Physician at Columbia University Medical Center. She currently serves on the Advisory Council for the National Institute of Arthritis, Musculoskeletal and Skin Diseases. She is also Past-President of ASBMR and has served both on the Editorial Board and as Associate Editor for the JBMR.

"It is a great honor for me to be recognized with the Frederic C. Bartter Award and to join the ranks of the ASBMR’s most illustrious clinical investigators”.

About ASBMR

The American Society for Bone and Mineral Research (ASBMR) is the leading professional, scientific and medical society established to bring together clinical and experimental scientists involved in the study of bone and mineral metabolism. ASBMR encourages and promotes the study of this expanding field through annual scientific meetings, an official journal (Journal of Bone and Mineral Research), the Primer on Metabolic Bone Diseases and Disorders of Mineral Metabolism, advocacy and interaction with government agencies and related societies.
