Research Announcements

Marianne J. Legato Research Scholar Awards Gender-Specific Medicine.

Deadline: February 15, 2011

Two awards will be made, each for $60,000 per year for two years, both directed towards junior faculty in the Department of Medicine. The program also allows for a third year of support if very significant progress can be demonstrated as the result of the first two years of funding. This award, the "Established Investigator in Gender Specific Medicine", will provide $100,000.
